

A Fighting U.S. Marine

LYRIC BY
C. H. HOGUE

MUSIC BY
B. HEISEL HARRISON

5

HARRY MARTIN

PUBLISHED BY
THIEBES PIANO CO.,
ST. LOUIS

A Fighting U.S. Marine.

Words and Arr. by
C. H. HOGUE.

Dedicated to
Sgt. Major John H. Quick.
Awarded
Congr. Medal of Honor in Cuba and Distinguished Service Cross in France.

Music by
B. HEISEL HARRISON.

We're on our way to-day, — We all are
He is a dog of war, — And when they Ber- lin bound. — And soon the Kai- ser's back — Will be up - on the ground. Ev- ery one to-day — let him loose — He'll make it hot e - nough — To cook the Kai - ser's goose. If you want to be —

— is get- ting in the fray — So I'll just put you wise as to the quick- est way — There is a
— there when the goose is done — Just take this tip and go to see him on the run —

CHORUS.

p-f

man in town who is call - ing you. He's call - ing for the boys who want to go. He gives a trip that's free to Ger - ma - ny. There's a train that leaves for

He is the man the Hun called "Teu - fel Hund." And they found this de - vil

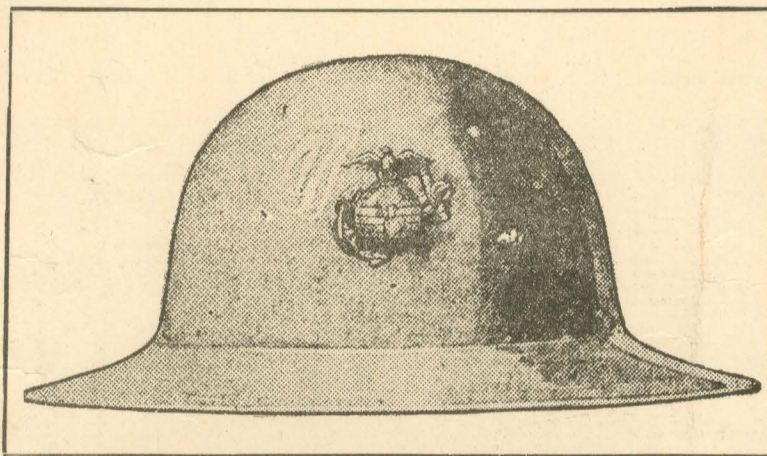

Ber - lin ev - ery day You can not fail to find the man I mean. He's dog a son-of-a gun.

known throughout the world as a Ma - rine! And he fights on land and sea for Lib - er - ty He's a fight - ing U. S. Ma - rine! 1. There is a rine! 2.

GET UNDER ONE OF THESE HATS

WITH U. S. MARINES

DO IT TODAY

Serve your Country in the Three in One Service
LAND—SEA—AIR

Men between the ages of 18 and 40 may enlist in the U. S. Marine Corps. The requirements are sound bodies and quick wits; the rewards—splendid training, opportunity for advancement, and adventure in all parts of the world.

U. S. Marines are drilled as artillerymen, infantry soldiers and machine-gun companies; they are instructed in all the arts of land warfare. On shipboard they are naval gunners, handling the anti-aircraft guns and the batteries that repel submarines.

REGISTERED MEN:

Ask your Board to release you for service in the Marines.

APPLY AT ANY MARINE RECRUITING STATION OR POST OFFICE.

Write to Headquarters U. S. Marine Corps, Washington, D. C., for Illustrated Booklet.